DiscussIT Topic 6: Where is our country headed?

Discuss IT Topic: Over the last week, our country has had growing concerns on immigration bans, border safety, and executive orders that remind us of issues that have been plaguing our country for years. Now that Trump has been elected President, there has been people threatening to blow up the White House, human right protests, and a plethora of other sensitive subject matters that are very compelling to individual groups of people. Why have these issues come up now as we head into a time in which it seems no one is going to be happy with the outcomes? Will this create a split in this country and place citizens against one another when it comes to their views? In your opinion, what other topics are at the forefront of concern? Exaplin.

Response: Please make sure all grammar, spelling, indentation, and punctuation is correct.

I think that these issues have come about since there are many people who strongly disagree with Trump's political views, his opinions on other topics, and the way he speaks. These issues come out now because of both the news media and social media. Social media makes it easy to put out inaccurate news and facts. Also, this generation is one that is not afraid to voice their opinions and do so when they get an outcome they do not like or agree with. This can create a split in this country because many people won't ever see eye-to-eye since people's political views are very difficult to change this. When you have two sides that will not change their views it will create a split. I feel that another topic that is of concern is abortion. There is no gray side to this people are either pro-choice or pro-life. This is in the forefront as this issue affects life. If you are pro-choice you feel that the government has no right to tell you as a woman what you can or cannot do to your own body but if you are pro-life you feel that the unborn child's is a life that has its own separate rights.
